

Writing and Citing in MLA Style

Academic Integrity

Plagiarism is presenting other people's words or thoughts as your own. Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, donec et mi est lacus. Fusce nam ipsum. Praesent proin a donec iaculis facilisis purus, dictum sed sagittis ridiculus cras, sem ullamcorper integer dui posuere. Ultricies eleifend elit lectus massa imperdiet molestie, velit debitis arcu integer quam adipiscing sed. Dolores apple orci mauris at nullam ut, tellus vestibulum lacus.

I. General Formatting

- Double space all pages, including title page and references page.
- Use a 12 point serif font Cursus ac mattis pellentesque, proin quisque leo.
- Ultrices leo dictum proin quis, faucibus enim hac feugiat et ac nascetur, class blandit.
- Felis in pulvinar feugiat magna, pellentesque venenatis ut, quis cras molestie ac nulla luctus volutpat, lacus condimentum pellentesque ligula id laoreet suscipit.
- Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, donec et mi est lacus.
-

II. In-Text Citations

A. General Rules

In-text citations generally include two elements: Cursus ac mattis pellentesque, proin quisque leo. Cursus ac mattis pellentesque, proin quisque leo. Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, donec et mi est lacus.

B. Quotations

There are two ways in which the last name(s) of the author(s) and the locator can be placed into short and long quotations:

- Short quotations: Cursus ac mattis pellentesque, proin quisque leo. Felis in pulvinar feugiat magna, pellentesque venenatis ut, quis cras molestie ac nulla luctus volutpat, lacus condimentum pellentesque ligula id laoreet suscipit.
- Long quotations: Cursus ac mattis pellentesque, proin quisque leo. Felis in pulvinar feugiat magna, pellentesque venenatis ut, quis cras molestie ac nulla luctus volutpat, lacus condimentum pellentesque ligula id laoreet suscipit.
- Changes to Quotations: Felis in pulvinar feugiat magna, pellentesque venenatis ut, quis cras molestie ac nulla luctus volutpat, lacus condimentum pellentesque ligula id laoreet suscipit.